common-sense. In dealing with Peking this time always to be borne in mind, but notwithstanding all our long experience, it is seldom sufficiently considered.
In this case we had an exceptionally strong position. We had made a treaty, agreed on a boundary, went to take over the leased territory, and met with a hostile reception due to the false statements spread among the inhabitants by the officials and gentry of the district, who also contributed men and arms to oppose the occupation. This act of hostility to easily set on foot amply proved the advisability of seeking help from the frontier to the range of hills beyond, which forms a natural boundary, more readily defensible, and leaving no considerable centre of population in close proximity thereto.

The monster ocean steamer now coming into the harbour has abolished coastwise. Of the two thousand passengers who came over the Hankow, only a few hundred are now in the harbour. The steamer is so long that it reaches from water to water, cutting through the line of following ships, and is downward than that of a railway train. The big ship had an excellent test on the voyage mentioned, as it was stormy all the way.

model ship. The model will represent the British fleet, which is now patrolling the waters of the East. The model will be a

The Leicester, the first steamer direct from Chungking to Shanghai, arrived at the latter port on the 15th inst.

Three steamers were at the Taku bar on the morning of the 15th inst., there being only seven feet at high water.—*N. G. Daily

The meeting of the Sanitary Board which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, has been postponed until Monday next, owing to yesterday's meeting of the Legislative Council.

The Rugby match played yesterday between the Hongkong Football Club and the Garrison was a most interesting game. The sides were well matched and throughout the play was exceedingly even and well contested. A draw, perhaps, would have been the result. In the first half the Hongkong team were successful in scoring a try which Mr. McKerrin succeeded in converting. This was the only score, the game resulting in a 1-0 win for the Hongkong team.

Lawyers ask some funny questions sometimes, and get equally funny answers. Last week in the great jury case, the plaintiff counsel, in reference to the fact that the defendant had been in the hospital, asked the jury, "Do you think that the increase of temperature of one degree per day is likely to make a difference in a man's health?" "Witness," I counsel might, when speaking of a long time, "I do not know." "How long a time?" "Witness," I counsel might, "It might be him if carried on long enough." "We fancy the doctor rather than the lawyer," that time.—Union.
